Hospital probe after mum-to-be demands white only staff at birth

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Hospital has launched an investigation into allegations surrounding a pregnant woman's request for only white staff to deliver her baby.

The Equality and Human Rights Commission has also sent a letter to the hospital after receiving a complaint about the hospital's handling of the request.

The Government is 'seeking urgent clarification' on the situation.

The hospital says this is the first incident of this kind and such a request is rare even on a national level. It is unknown why the woman made it.

The hospital has not confirmed whether the request was initially granted, although it says it was not an all-white team that eventually delivered the baby.

One source told this newspaper that there was unrest and upset following the incident.

Navrita Atwal, director of Milton Keynes Equality Council, said that if staff were excluded from treating the patient based on their race, the hospital may have breached Section 71 of the Race Relations Act 1976.

She said: "If the allegations are true, what the hospital did was unlawful. The best course of action would be to say, look, we will provide you with the best care with whatever staff are available.

"You hear about this sort of thing in America but not in England. The staff involved would have been devastated. If I worked there and I was told I couldn't treat a patient because of my colour, I would be devastated."

Milton Keynes Hospital's own policy, 'Managing Diversity and Equal Opportunities in Employment', says excluding people of certain races from particular jobs constitutes direct discrimination.

According to 2005 figures, 64 per cent of the trust's workforce is white, six per cent Asian and five per cent black.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Hospital said: "The trust is carrying out a full investigation into this allegation, and the judgments made based on immediate clinical needs and to ensure the safety of the mother and baby.

"We take the interests and well-being of our staff very seriously, and any act of racial discrimination will not be tolerated. Discrimination and prejudice whether from patients, visitors or staff is unacceptable, and this is a message that we will continue to communicate internally and externally.

"Robust policies are in place to promote and protect equality and diversity for all, and we are proud of the diversity of our workforce and local community."

A spokesman for the Equality and Human Rights Commission said: "We are aware of the complaint. We're deciding what action we might take if it's appropriate."

A Department of Health spokesman said: "All staff and patients should be treated with respect at all times and not be subjected to discrimination or harassment on any grounds.

"We expect all parts of the NHS to adhere to this principle and are seeking urgent clarification from the trust."

A spokesman for the Care Quality Commission added: "NHS staff should be clear that they do not have to accept discriminatory behaviour."

MP in the clear on expenses claims

CITY MP Mark Lancaster has been told he does not need to pay back any expenses.

The member for North East Milton Keynes received a letter from Sir Thomas Legg asking for proof of his mortgage interest and a copy of his lease and rent for his flat.

It followed the former civil servant's review of all MPs' second home allowances from the last five years.

Mr Lancaster said: "It's been a long process but I'm delighted Sir Thomas has said all my expenses are in order. I look forward to seeing what reforms the Kelly review suggests. But for my own part I will continue to publish my expenses online."

Celebrity mule killed in crash

Keira Knightley co-star hit by car

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CELEBRITY mule which starred in a Hollywood film with Keira Knightley has been killed in a car crash.

Napoleon was with three donkeys that had escaped from their farm field in Mursley, Buckinghamshire in the early hours of Tuesday morning.

The mule and two of the donkeys were injured when a car collided with them on Whaddon Road at around 6am.

The animals were owned by the stunt team The Devil's Horsemen based in the village.

Napoleon appeared in the hit film The Duchess, which starred Keira Knightley and Ralph Fiennes.

Zoe Ross, manager at the The Devil's Horsemen, said: "Napoleon, who was 27-years-old, was often featured in our shows and in many films.

"He was the cheeky one, full of character.

"Whenever we did our shows we would wonder whether he was actually going to do it or mess about. He was very talented. Many people loved him. We are sad to have lost him in this way."

The Devil's Horseman stunt team tour around country fairs and horse shows performing medieval displays with their 80 horses and 200 carriages, in addition to providing animals for films and television.

One of the donkeys which was badly injured in the collision is to be seen by a vet today while the third suffered only minor injuries.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said the driver of the grey Saab convertible that collided with the donkeys was not injured in the crash

The road was closed for an hour to recover the vehicle.

Supermarket giant is set to regenerate Stantonbury Campus school and centre

A SUPERMARKET is hoping to transform a secondary school campus.

The Sainsbury's chain is proposing to regenerate Stantonbury Campus – not only the local shopping centre, but also the school buildings.

Plans for a new local centre, shops, pharmacy, post office, health centre, community centre and of course a Sainbury's supermarket are to be presented to the public.

The land at the north of Stantonbury Campus, which includes some of the school buildings most in need of replacement, is proposed to be included in the new centre. It is intended that the redevelopment would generate funding to provide state-of-the-art school facilities in brand new buildings elsewhere on the site.

Mark Wasserberg, school principal, said "We now have a once in a lifetime opportunity to transform the facilities of Stantonbury Campus to offer a state-of-the-art education for the 21st Century. Working with Sainsbury's will enable us to vastly enhance facilities, raise educational standards and improve security for our students as well as opening up educational and social facilities for the wider community."

MP Mark Lancaster, who has been campaigning for better facilities, said: "I'm pleased that finally Sainsbury's are engaging with Stantonbury residents as it is absolutely vital that local people should have a full say in how this project proceeds."

The company says it will not submit planning application until the public has been consulted.

Exhibitions will take place at the leisure centre on November 3 (5pm to 9pm), November 4 (5pm to 9pm) and November 7 (9am to 1pm).

Ancient treasure remains hidden

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE city is a treasure trove for ancient artefacts, but they cannot be showcased here.

Due to the rate of development, Milton Keynes is one of the best excavated places in the country. Last year alone, 18 digs took place.

But with no archaeological museum, most items go to Bucks County Museum in Aylesbury, or into storage.

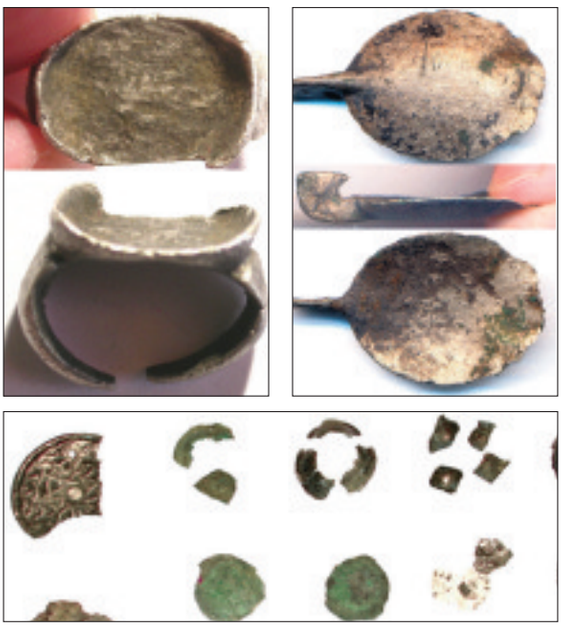
Only some can be shown at Milton Keynes Museum, as it is only accredited for more recent social history.

The issue was raised at an inquest last week, when Coroner Rodney Corner declared a Roman ring and spoon treasure.

Metal detectorist Geoffrey Bonner from Newport Pagnell found the objects at a Roman tip on the town's border with Bedfordshire.

Coroner Corner adjourned another inquest into a Saxon silver pendant necklace and ring until more object comes forward.

They were discovered during an excavation of a 7th century cemetery near the Radcliffe School in Wolverton, where 81 bodies were found.



Top: Roman ring and spoon. Above: Saxon pendant necklace

During the inquest, Coroner Corner asked where the artefacts will end up.

Ros Tyrrell, Finds Liaison Officer at Bucks County Council, replied that a lack of staff and facilities means they will probably not be shown in Milton Keynes.

Afterwards she added: "There are vast amounts of material that could go in a museum. There's no question about that. There are excavations going on all over the city all the time.

There is 25 years worth of archaeology here. But it's all in storage. We've a monstrous heritage but nowhere to display it."

Alastair Hancock, from Bleak Hall-based Archaeological Services and Consultancy Ltd, managed the four-month Wolverton grave dig.

He said 'it would be very good for the city' to be able to display finds from its medieval, Roman and Iron Age past, locally.

Keeper of Archaeology at Bucks County Museum, Brett Thorn, said: "Should there be a future accredited archaeological museum in Milton Keynes, this material would be transferred to them."

Phil Hall, from the North Bucks Archaeological Society, said: "It's one of those things. No-one's opening museums, there's no public money for museums, so all this stuff which should be shown is ending up in storage.

"But that's for the conscience of Milton Keynes Council."

Cllr Vanessa McPake, cabinet member for heritage, said: "Yes, we would hope in the future to be able to showcase some of our archaeological finds, but it's a question of money."

About-turn on TA soldiers' training

A CITY MP and member of the Territorial Army has helped force a climb-down by the Government over plans to stop training.

Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North East and a Major in the Territorial Army (TA), told the Armed Forces Minister Bill Rammell during a debate he called for in Parliament that plans to stop training for soldiers for six months and save £20million were a 'grave mistake'.

After mounting pressure Mr Rammell announced that every soldier will now get one night's training a month while the TA budget will not be cut by as much.

Speaking during the debate, Mr Lancaster, who has volunteered for active service three times and spent time in Afghanistan, said the plans were 'ill-conceived' and that in 19 years of service he has never known morale in the TA to be so low.

The Government's proposals will still mean a cut from the current weekly drill-hall instruction, weekend exercises and other training received by TA soldiers, reducing the budget nationally by £17.5m. Soldiers due to be sent to Afghanistan will not see a reduction in training.

Mr Lancaster told MK NEWS: "I'm pleased that the Government have seen the error of its ways and this concession of one drill night a month is a small step in the right direction.

"It does not however go far enough and given the cross party anger over this cut I am quietly confident that if I keep pressing we will see a complete climb down, perhaps once the media spotlight has moved on."

Go to jail – collect £170,000 in compensation

WOODHILL Prison has paid out more than £170,000 in compensation to inmates over the last four years.

Figures released by the Ministry of Justice show that the largest payment, of £150,000, was made in 2007/2008 for medical negligence by the Category A jail on Tattenhoe Street, Milton Keynes.

Another claim for medical negligence of £2,500 was made around two years earlier in 2005/2006.

A total of £670 was also paid out for unlawful detention since 2005 and other claims were for injury and lost property.

These figures only relate to claims in the civil courts.

A spokesman for the Prison Service said: "We successfully defend the majority of compensation claims. We make payments only when we are instructed to do so by the courts or where strong legal advice suggests that a settlement will save public money.

"Each compensation claim received by the Prison Service is treated on its individual merits.

"Legal advice is sought and, on the basis of that advice, a decision is made on whether or not the claim should be defended.

"We cannot therefore comment on individual cases or the reasons that they were settled, as the terms of each settlement vary and may be subject to confidentiality clauses."

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Parks dog waste bins would cost £300,000

SIR – In response to the letter relating to the provision of dog bins in Campbell Park.

The Parks Trust wants to outline our policy on providing dog bins.

We believe that the disposal of dog waste is the responsibility of the dog owner.

It is our policy not to provide dog bins. We're not opposed to dog bins and actively work with parish councils that wish to install and maintain them.

However, we've investigated buying dog bins and, unfortunately, the cost of installing, emptying and replacing them across all our 4,500 acres of parkland would be £300,000 in the first year alone.

Clearly as a self-funding charity with a limited budget we would have to justify spending money on dog bins when it could be spent on education activities, landscaping, tree planting and footpath maintenance.

Instead we rely on dog owners acting responsibly by taking dog waste bags to dispose of at home.

It's difficult to balance the needs of all our park users, but if everyone respects the parks, is thoughtful and considerate to other people, our money can be spent on measures that genuinely improve the parks and benefit all.

David Foster
Chief executive, The Parks Trust

Parking fees protest

SIR – Many of your readers will be unaware that the council has just finished yet another poorly publicised 'consultation', this time on the subject of CMK parking fees.

I have been contacted by residents, office workers, shop staff, commuters, and people who visit CMK for shopping and leisure, to say that the proposals from the Lib-Dem cabinet will be bad for jobs, bad for MK's credibility as a regional centre, and bad for the city's carbon footprint.

If people would like to add their voice to a campaign for a proper review of how MK attracts jobs, staff and customers to CMK with a fair and carbon-friendly parking tariff, please let me know.

John Bint

Great ball of fire

SIR – On the evening of Tuesday, October 20, I saw one of these orange fireballs in the sky over Caldecotte.

I was walking to my car after work at about 7.30pm and it caught my eye.

I thought at first it may have been the flameburst from a hot air balloon but it was moving erratically, up and down and back and forth in the air.

It was clear that it was of a fair size and several hundred feet away and up.

It appeared to be over Caldecotte Lake, near to Bletcham Way. I'm stunned that this is a recurring event.

Poppy Appeal will help the 'Afghan generation'

Cllr Henderson at last year's Remembrance ceremony at New Bradwell

SIR – Each year the nation expresses its heartfelt support for The Royal British Legion's charity work through the Poppy Appeal.

This year the appeal is emphasising the need to help the Afghan generation of the Armed Forces and their families – today and for the rest of their lives.

They have given, and continue to give, so much to this country. We should do what we can to honour that debt and assist the Royal British Legion to continue its support.

I would urge the people of Milton Keynes to once again do their bit, and give generously to this year's appeal.

This year Remembrance Sunday will fall on November 8. Wreaths will be laid at War Memorials at different times and at different places around the Borough and the traditional two minutes silence will be observed.

Then on Wednesday, November 11, at 11am offices, shops and individuals throughout Milton Keynes will pause for two minutes to mark the moment when the First World War came to an end 91 years ago.

The Royal British Legion provides financial, social and emotional support to those who have served and are currently serving in the Armed Forces, and their dependants.

Currently, nearly 10.5 million people are eligible for support and thousands of calls for help are responded to every year.

By donating money and wearing your poppy with pride, or by volunteering to assist in other ways, you are helping to ensure ex-servicemen and women, and their families, are not forgotten.

Cllr Euan Henderson
Mayor of Milton Keynes

Public meeting

SIR – Further to the kind letter of support from the chairman of the Bradwell Residents' Association, Margeret Burke, I would like to point out that part of the regeneration of Stantonbury includes the redevopment of the local shops and Stantonbury Campus by Sainsbury's.

Sainsbury's has notified me that its is accelerating the development programme and isapplying for outline planning permission next week.

An exhibition of the proposals will be available for reveiw at Stantonbury's Leisure Centre on the evenings of November 3-4 and all day Saturday, November 7.

Our meeting of the November 5, to which Margeret referred, is a public meeting to discuss these proposals among other issues affecting the estate.

For those who wish to attend the time is 7.15pm at the Christ Church Stantonbury

Graham Davison
Chairman, Stantonbury Residents' Association

Bridge boy menace

SIR – Re 'Boy dangled off bridge' story on your website.

We should be commending these men, not trying to persecute them.

These kids were being a menace to society – what if they continued and there was a multi-car pile-up with children, mums and dads being killed on the road?

What is the country coming to?

Sent by e-mail

BBC KO NPC, BNP OK

SIR – The wisdom of extending an invitation by the BBC to the BNP to appear on Question Time is questionable.

What is even more questionable is why the BBC refuses to extend an invitation to the National Pensioners Convention the umbrella organisation of the pensioners movement in Britain.

The BBC claims that the BNP has a right to be heard but in the case of the NPC the same rule does not seem to apply.

Repeated attempts have been made to allow a spokesman from the NPC to appear on the panel but the BBC says the NPC is not known enough nationwide.

What is it that the BBC is afraid of? Is it that it may upset the Government in allowing the NPC to tell the public that Britain has the lowest state pension in the western EU or that 1.5million pensioners are living in poverty, that the standard of care has fallen since the privatisation of the care system.

Our campaign for an improvement in the quality of life for pensioners is not just about pensioners it's also about the quality of life that we want to see for our children and grandchildren when they become pensioners.

The BBC comes very near in being guilty of age discrimination. It is wrong for management to bar us. We have the right to be heard.

Dennis Brett
MK Pensioners Association

Slow progress at Gatehouse School

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

PROGRESS has been made at a special school where children were abused for three years.

However, a report reviewing changes at Gatehouse School reveals that many improvements are still to be met.

Forty-one recommendations were made in March after it was revealed that boys had been manhandled and locked in classrooms.

'Procedures are now in place to ensure that students are not locked in classrooms,' the report by Dame Jo Williams says.

In fact, guidance about not locking classroom doors has been issued to all city schools.

All Gatehouse staff have had restraint training, after it was found that boys had been 'inappropriately' tackled by teachers, for example being pushed down with both arms and legs.

In the report, due to be presented to the council's Children and Young People's Select Committee next Tuesday, November 3, concern is expressed that 'the physical environment is poor' at Gatehouse.

It is proving 'extremely difficult' to recruit a headteacher – there is an all-out effort to appoint a permanent one.

Attendance in the last term was below target at 69 per cent, with 10 students not attending at all.

The need for an independent advocacy service for children is still to be addressed.

But it says the new council officers in charge of children's services, including new boss Gail Tolley, have acted appropriately.

Cabinet member for children, Cllr Sandra Clark, said: "Whilst there is clearly work still needed to be done to improve outcomes for pupils we hope that the school can now draw a line under the past and move forward with confidence."

Cllr Andy Dransfield, Tory chairman of the select committee, said: "Have we got safe procedures to ensure that if concerns like this are raised in the future, will they be acted on? That's what I will be asking at the meeting."

A further progress report is expected in six months.

150-plus registered sex offenders in city

ON a day in March this year there were 157 registered sex offenders in Milton Keynes.

This figure was released on Monday in the eighth Thames Valley Multi-Agency Public Protection Arrangements (MAPPA) report.

The report covers the police, probation and prison service's joint efforts to manage sexual and violent offenders in the community.

The report includes a snapshot figure, taken on March 21, 2009, which shows there were 1,038 registered sex offenders (RSOs) in Thames Valley on that day.

In Milton Keynes there were 157 registered sex offenders, 22 more than recorded in 2008.

During the year from April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2009 there were 1,111 Registered Sex Offenders (RSOs) in the Thames Valley area.

Of these 15 were cautioned or convicted of breaching their registration requirement and four were jailed for the breach of a sexual offences order, which place limits on behaviour to prevent further offences.

The number of non RSO offenders managed by MAPPA in the Thames Valley during the year, including violent offenders, was 671. This takes the total of offenders to 1,782, which is 31 more than the year before but 180 fewer than in 2006-07.

Is it pumpkins for dinner? That's the Drill

HALLOWEEN comes early to Woburn Safari Park with the arrival of five rare African primates with a taste for pumpkins.

Visitors to the park can now see a collection of one of Africa's rarest mammals, the Drill, in the park's drive-through African Forest.

As the Drills happily feed on pumpkins their arrival couldn't be more timely, as they'll be able to gorge themselves on the seasonal squash, which is produced in abundance on the park's site.

Bakers in the soup

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A FOOD company may appeal against a council order forcing it to clear an 'unlawful development' at its factory.

Milton Keynes Council has chosen to use enforcement orders against Giles Foods Ltd, the owners of the Pain Artisan factory in Tanners Drive, Blakelands, where 178 people are employed making breads and pastries.

The council's development control committee has issued a notice demanding the removal by March 2011 of portable buildings containing a temporary cold store and loading dock, office space and a canteen, a 2.7metre fence and car park, placed on the site unlawfully in late 2005.

Giles Foods says it intends to remove the temporary development once it has refurbished two neighbouring units it has acquired, but this work has been hindered by the economic situation.

David Rixon, managing director, said: "The council members seemed to be more interested in red tape and bureaucracy, rather than the practical problems of a local growing business and the challenges of working in a recession. We will be reconsidering our future plans and a possible appeal to the enforcement notice."

David Tunney, ward councillor for the Blakelands area, added: "This order comes at a critical time in the life of the company with the economic recession... it may put the jobs of the people that work there at risk."

Cllr Catriona Morris, chairman of the development control committee, said: "We believe we have taken the importance of the jobs into consideration, as though the cpmpany asked to have until December 2010 to clear the unlawful development, we have given them until March 2011.

Health staff given swine flu vaccine

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AS the number of swine flu cases begins to rise in Milton Keynes vaccinations are being given to health service staff.

Frontline health and social care staff who are in regular contact with those patients most likely to fall into the priority risk groups are now being given the vaccinations.

The vaccination programme begins as the number of swine flu cases in MK begins to increase once more, with 81 cases reported last week, compared to 50 the week before.

The vaccination of health care staff aims to help minimise the risk of transmission of the virus to ensure the health service can keep running and safeguard staff, their patients, their colleagues and their families.

Anita Reed, chief operating officer at Milton Keynes Hospital, said: "Recent annual flu seasons have seen relatively low levels of flu, but there are early signs that, with the added impact of swine flu, we will have a busy winter season.

"We continue to send out the message that good hand hygiene is essential to promote patient safety and prevent the spread of infection."

Staff who will be invited to have the vaccine include everyone who has regular clinical contact with patients.

This includes doctors, midwives, nurses, occupational therapists and radiographers.

Students and trainees in these disciplines and volunteers working with patients will also be included.

Sue Frossell, consultant in public health at NHS Milton Keynes, added: "These supplies will also be used to protect any in-patients in at-risk groups who clinicians feel need to be vaccinated immediately."

GP practices across the borough are likely to receive the vaccine within the next few weeks and will then start contacting their patients in at risk groups to offer them the vaccine.

Mrs Frossell added: "The vaccines have now been licensed by the European Medicines Agency and those who are offered it should take up that offer.

"Having the vaccine will protect those at high risk and help protect their families.

"It is also likely to protect them against mutated strains. Although the majority of people have suffered minor symptoms with swine flu, for some it has proved fatal."

Those to be offered the swine flu vaccination first include all people aged between six months and 65 years who usually get the seasonal flu jab, pregnant women, people who live with those whose immune systems are compromised, such as cancer patients or people with HIV/AIDS and people aged 65 and over in the current seasonal flu vaccine clinical at-risk groups.

Doctors, midwives, nurses, therapists and radiographers will be vaccinated. See a video of the action at: www.mk-news.co.uk

First for mosque

A MOSQUE is holding the city's first Muslim open week.

Wolverton Central Mosque's Islamic awareness week started on Saturday with exhibitions on history, art, crafts and calligraphy.

Taking place at their Church Street base, police will be on hand to discuss recruitment, NHS representatives giving health advice and faith leaders giving tours of the mosque itself.

Spokesman Kalim Akram said: "There's never been anything like this before. We thought we should make people aware that we're not all terrorists.

"A lot of people have misconceptions so we are going to talk to people about the faith - explain how we pray, for example.

"We hope the general public will come and have a look and see what's inside."

Boy dangled from bridge

TWO men dangled a boy off a bridge after a group of youngsters poured drink onto the road below.

The incident happened at about 9.30pm on Thursday, October 15 as the 13-year-old boy was walking over a bridge between Leadenhall and Eaglestone, with three of his friends.

The boys stopped and were pouring Pepsi over the bridge.

Two men in a black hatchback car stopped on the V7, heading towards the city centre. They slapped one boy in the face and pushed his head over the edge of bridge threatening to throw him off.

They then dangled the boy face down over the bridge which crosses the H7 between Eaglestone and Fishermead.

The offenders then walked back to their car and drove off towards the city centre.

Police officers are appealing for witnesses.

The first offender is described as white, mid to late 20s, 5ft 10ins to 6ft tall, slender with a closely shaved head and stubble on his face. He was wearing a dark jacket and blue jeans.

The second is white, late 20s to early 30s, 6ft tall and slender. His hair was closely cut and gelled down on top. He was wearing a white jumper with dark jeans and boots.

Call PC James Punter on 0845 8505505 or Crimestoppers, on 0800 555 111.

School is saved

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

STUDENTS' soaring scores may have saved a city school from shutting down.

Last week the Radcliffe School was taken out of 'special measures' - the Government's tag for failing institutions - allaying the threat of it becoming an academy.

For the first time in its history it has been rated as 'good' by Ofsted, after being labelled inadequate since January 2008.

Earlier this year, Milton Keynes Council said it was being 'pressurised' into starting the controversial academy process. It even nominated a sponsor, Leigh Academies, to fund and run it.

But headmaster John O'Donnell believes Ofsted's rating will remove Radcliffe from the line of fire, thanks to improved exam results.

He said: "We are delighted to have come out as a 'good' school - to have leapt through the 'satisfactory' category from being 'inadequate'. This is a commitment for us to continue to improve as we are.

"We haven't had an official word on the academy process yet, but this news may well have changed things. The decision rests with the minister, Ed Balls. But our results speak for themselves."

John O'Donnell headmaster at Radcliffe school in Wolverton

In five years, the number of children achieving five A* to C grades rose from 29 per cent to 75.

Since their regeneration plans were scuppered by plummeting land values, an academy seemed like an option. However, there is concern that, with Government deficits, a rebuild would not be guaranteed.

Back in June, cabinet member for children, Cllr Sandra Clark, criticised the 'pressure' from the Government.

This week she said: "We are delighted with the news that The Radcliffe has been removed from special measures, and have never waivered in our belief that the school could and should resolve its own issues.

"I would like to express my congratulations to the staff, pupils and parents for their hard work, and the pride they now show in their school.

"We are confident that the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF) will now consider the views of the school and the local authority when deciding upon the need for an academy.

"The Radcliffe is a school that serves its community well, and should now aspire to move from being a good school to an outstanding school in the very near future."

Q. What turns blue, pink and green into gold?

A. Just get your recycling right and you could receive £100 in cash or vouchers

EVERY month we bring smiles to people in Milton Keynes by handing over £100 in cash or vouchers, just for recycling correctly.

Filling up your green bin, blue box and pink sacks with all the right materials could make you a winner, its that easy.

We have been visiting Oxley Park, Emerson Valley, Newport Pagnell, Stantonbury and Bletchley amongst others, as we look to reward the efforts of residents all over the city.

In order to be in with a chance of winning you need to correctly sort all of your recycling into your pink sacks, blue box and green bin.

All non-recyclable waste should be placed in black sacks and put out with your recycling; it then needs to be presented on the boundary of your property by 7am on your collection day.

We do ask that you do not pile up your rubbish with other people in your area as this makes it impossible for us to know who is recycling correctly and who isn't.

Getting it right could mean that Milton Keynes Council together with its partners Serco and Community Waste visiting you bright and early to give you £100 in cash or vouchers.

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

What's growing on at kids' veg plot?

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A LOCAL food growing project is to hold a Halloween-themed open day.

People are invited to take a look at what has been going on behind the trees on a 2.5 acre patch of land in Wolverton, where youngsters have begun growing organic vegetables and salad crops to be sold to individuals, shops and restaurants in the community.

The project is run by a new social enterprise group called Growing People, part of the Milton Keynes Christian Foundation, which works with young people who are outside mainstream eduction.

Since it was featured in MK NEWS in July the group has erected a third poly tunnel and a greenhouse, carried out more ground preparation and planted winter salad.

The trainees also met famous chef Raymond Blanc in September when he used their produce in a cookery demonstration for Wyvern schoolchildren.

The project has now been granted money from the Milton Keynes Community Foundation for rainwater harvesting materials like water butts and polytunnel guttering, Wolverton Unlimited has agreed to fund two outdoor taps and Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council has provided a grant for fruit trees and soft fruit.

The Growing People project in Wolverton is holding an open day

Heather Talbot, Growing People project leader, said: "We will be purchasing and planting these over autumn and winter and will be able to take cuttings in future years to expand our stock.

"We hope local schoolchildren will be pleased as, when they came to visit in the summer, we had hundreds of requests for cherry trees and this grant will pay for five."

The open day will be held from noon until 3pm on Saturday, October 31 at the site, which can be entered next to the redway from Windsor Street.

Any young people interested in working on the project can either be referred by Connexions, drop into Foundation House in The Square, Wolverton and ask for Angela or look for Growing People on Facebook.

Jail for sledge hammer attack

A MAN has been sentenced to two years in jail after hitting a sleeping man repeatedly with a sledge hammer.

Brian Elie, 46, from Skene Close, Bletchley, was sentenced at Huntingdon Crown Court on Wednesday, October 21 after pleading guilty to causing grevious bodily harm at an earlier hearing.

On April 26 this year at about 2.30am, Elie forced his way into a house in Katrine Place, Bletchley. The victim was in the house asleep at the time and was hit repeatedly by Elie with a sledge hammer. He sustained a fractured cheek bone and lacerations to his face and head.

Preparing for a pandemic

LOCAL businesses and voluntary groups recently spent a day looking at what to plan for in the event of a major staff shortage caused by pandemic flu or some other disruption.

The free event was run by Milton Keynes Business Resilience Forum (MK BRF) at the Open University last Wednesday.

MK BRF was set up three years ago by Milton Keynes Council, with the aim of providing local businesses and voluntary organisations easy access to business continuity and resilience help and guidance.

Skaters lose out

FOUR ice skating acts have performed for celebrity skater Kyran Bracken.

The youngsters aged from six to 16 took part in ITV1 Skating on Ice 2007 winner Kyran Bracken's 'Skate Factor' national finals in Blackpool to compete for the chance to perform in the former English rugby union player's Ice Party show.

The four acts, all skaters who are coached by the International School of Skating in MK, did not win but enjoyed the experience and were given tickets to see the Ice Party live.

Science in with a shout

A dancing robot in Midsummer Place

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

WHO said science was boring?

Well, whoever it was hasn't been anywhere near Milton Keynes over the past two weeks as the Milton Keynes Science Festival 2009 took place across the city.

Hundreds of people attended over 20 free events, which allowed Milton Keynes to showcase some of it's world-class scientific and technical achievements.

The aim of the annual festival is to bring science to people in fun and interesting ways, from school children to pub-goers.

This year's festival featured some diverse activities including a shouting competition to learn about how acoustics work, a live musical performance all about life and evolution, a pub quiz, robot building workshops and an astronomy evening with an exclusive film screening.

Scientists went into schools and over two days pupils from various primary schools across the city descended on the City Discovery Centre to learn about chemistry in a series of short demonstrations including minor laboratory-controlled explosions, a demonstration of fire, dressing up in a bee-keepers suit and meeting a shire horse.

Dr Lindsey Shaw Greening, MK Science Festival co-ordinator, said: "We are thrilled with this year's response to the festival. Our aim is to engage the public right across the city with exciting, entertaining and informative events that capture people's imagination and this year we certainly delivered.

"Thanks must go to our many sponsors who, without their support, the festival would not have been such a huge success."

Builders move in at Chicheley Hall

A SCIENCE academy has begun transforming a stately home.

The Royal Society, which bought Chicheley Hall for £6.5 million in April, has started to turn the former family home into a global centre for science.

The Grade I listed building will contain two lecture halls, a theatre, four meeting rooms and 47 bedrooms before it opens to delegates in 2010 – the Royal Society's 350th anniversary.

Natural England had to grant permission for renovations due to bats at the site.

Chicheley Hall, which up until the sale was home to Sir John and Lady Nutting, will host team building events, away days, conferences, meetings and seminars.

It will serve as the Royal Society Kavli International Centre, an extension to the London base of the society, which funds more than 2,500 of the UK's best scientists every year.

The 75 acres of gardens and unique architecture will be preserved.

Bedford School – inspiring excellence in sport and the arts

With its impressive record of producing international players, sporting success has become almost synonymous with Bedford School. However, while sport is very much to the fore at Bedford, the attitude is inclusive and the enthusiastic fan who can recite league tables off by heart is valued just as highly as the boy who makes headlines on the back pages. The aim here is to inspire boys with an interest in sport at all levels of ability "from the beginner to the elite" says Director of Sport Guy Fletcher. "We give everyone the chance to participate in a wide range of sporting activities and, within a carefully structured programme, to maximise the potential of each individual".

Developing sporting skills

And wide ranging it is, covering the traditional disciplines of rugby, cricket, hockey and rowing and extending to archery, athletics, canoeing, water polo, rock climbing and golf. For team players, individual sportsmen and even the reluctant athlete, the choice on offer provides something for everyone. And this excellence of provision is matched by the superb facilities which include a twin Astroturf complex with floodlights, an indoor swimming pool, tennis and squash courts, a climbing wall, acres of immaculate grass pitches and a well-equipped Recreation Centre. These resources, backed up by a high standard of professional coaching, as well as strong links with prestigious sports clubs including Northampton Saints Rugby Club and Woburn Golf Club, provide unrivalled opportunities for boys to develop their skills and pursue their passions.

Strong music tradition

Bedford also has a long-standing reputation for musical excellence and its commitment is reflected in the Music School, one of the largest and most impressive in the country. Within this state-of-the-art building, tuition is available in all orchestral and band instruments, as well as the organ and harp. A high proportion of boys choose to learn one or more instruments and over the years, the school has provided many players for the National Youth Orchestra.

Andrew Morris, Director of Music is proud of the school's heritage. "We have a long history of producing fine musicians at Bedford, but music touches the lives of most Bedford School boys and is a central part of the school and what it stands for". This contention is borne out by the wide variety of music groups that abound – from classical and choral, to jazz and rock. There are enthusiastically supported performances throughout the year and frequent opportunities to tour.

Performance and imagination

Dramatic and visual arts are given equal prominence. The superb 250-seat theatre plays host to regular school productions which are always staged to a consistently high standard, as well as numerous visits by national touring companies. The annual House Plays Festival is always eagerly anticipated while original work by the students has been performed at the Edinburgh Festival.

In the well-equipped art, printmaking and sculpture studios, budding artists are inspired to produce colourful and vibrant work in a variety of media. Their wide-ranging and thought-provoking pieces are exhibited to much acclaim at the end of each year. In addition to the exciting resources on hand to them, the boys benefit from regular workshops and lectures given by practicing artists and art historians.

All-round excellence

In every area of school life, Bedford steadfastly maintains this ethos of striving for all-round excellence. The success of this approach is clearly demonstrated by the school's consistently high academic results both at GCSE and in the Sixth Form, and in the confidence of the boys as they move on out into the world well equipped to face new challenges.

Planners' pavilion branded too 'ugly'

Officers are told to go back to drawing board and 'do better'

An artist's impression of the pavilion off Cranbourne Avenue, Westcroft

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE council's planning committee has turned down its own officers' plans for a pavilion on playing fields.

Milton Keynes Council's development control committee threw out an application to build a sports pavilion on green space off Cranbourne Avenue, Westcroft as the designs were 'ugly'.

In a unanimous decision councillors upheld residents' complaints against the proposals for two single-storey buildings containing four changing rooms with showers, officials changing rooms and a social area or meeting space for community use at its meeting on Thursday, October 15.

It would currently serve four junior football pitches on the site.

Catriona Morris, chairman of the committee said: "We turned it down as it was ugly.

"Everybody was appalled by the design and we thought they could do better."

The committee has asked officers to come back with improved designs.

Nick Lewis, whose house in Wroxton Court overlooks the playing fields, has collected 126 signatures on a petition from local residents calling for a promised cricket pitch to be delivered.

He described the pavilion proposals, which include metal shutters on the doors and windows and fencing to protect against anti-social behaviour, as like a 'warehouse' or 'prison'.

He added: "We have always maintained our request to the council that we are happy to have one single building as a pavilion.

"This would allow the budget saved on building a second building which nobody wants, nor indeed needs, in favour of a cricket pitch."

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said: "Members of the development control committee make their decision on the night, after hearing all of the information and evidence available to them.

"Leisure staff involved in the project did consult with local ward councillors, but there are very strict rules and procedures that apply to any contact to members of the DC committee prior to the decision being taken.

"The staff involved in the project will be looking again at the design of the pavilion."

Lucky winners in different age categories will win tickets to see MK Dons home matches at stadiummk and WH Smith vouchers.

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "I'm sure that most young people will think it tremendously exciting to have world-class matches taking place right on our doorstep at stadiummk if we win our bid to be a host city in 2018.

"The bid has already received lots of great support from the city's young people, and we hope that they will now get involved by entering our competition and sending us an image of how they see life in MK in 2018. It's a chance to be imaginative and show us how creative they can be."

Winning entries will displayed at www.mkworldcup2018.com and may be exhibited locally.

Changes to Housing and Council Tax Benefit

Child benefit will no longer be counted as income

From 2 November 2009, child benefit will no longer be counted as income when we assess Council Tax Benefit and Housing Benefit. This means that more people with children may now be eligible for these benefits.

How will this affect me?

The effect will depend on how much benefit you get now (if any), and how many children you get child benefit for. For example, someone with two children who doesn't get maximum benefits could be better off by up to £28.22 a week. That adds upto nearly £1500 per year.

What if I already get housing benefit or council tax benefit?

If you already get Council Tax Benefit and/or Housing Benefit, we will automatically reassess your benefit from 2 November 2009. If your benefit changes, we will write and tell you.

If you get Housing Benefit but your income is too much to get Council Tax Benefit, we will reassess your Housing Benefit automatically, but you will need to make a new claim for Council Tax Benefit

How do I apply?

If you are not currently in receipt of Housing and/or Council Tax Benefit, you can either check your entitlement on our web calculator at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/benefitscalculator or make a claim in the following way.

Ring Us

- Call our New Claims line on 01908 252770. One of our Benefit Advisors will guide you through the process.

Other ways to apply

- Visit us at Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Central Milton Keynes, MK9 3EJ Monday - Friday, 9.00am – 5.15pm and we'll help you apply there and then. Check out our website for details of what information you will need to bring with you. www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/benefits/home.asp

The office and phones are busiest all day on Mondays and between 11.30am - 2.30pm on other days. Enjoy a shorter waiting time by visiting or phoning during our less busy periods.

Shoppers will be able to catch stunning new Autumn/Winter collections from retailers on stage.

The event is hosted by Jon Pierce, who has worked with the likes of Graham Norton and Gok Wan, and produced for major shows including Channel 4's 'How to Look Good Naked.'

He said: "Expect a high end, high energy show of entertainment and celebration of fashion in MK over the two days. The show has been put together by an industry leading choreographer; the dancers are fresh from the 'Take That' Circus tour and the models have just come from the Clothes Show Lives' main stage. We've pulled out all the stops to make this a spectacular and unforgettable event."

Centre manager Martin Hindson said: "This will be Milton Keynes' biggest fashion event of the year, so we're expecting a huge turnout."

Each show lasts 15-20 minutes and six will run each day to ensure visitors can select times to suit them or watch the entire display.

Energetic efforts to cut carbon

MILTON Keynes has been praised for saving energy.

Much of this success is due to the Milton Keynes Carbon Offset Fund, which is paid for by developers.

Where a carbon neutral development is not achieved, developers contribute to the fund. The money is then used to reduce carbon emissions across Milton Keynes.

Jan Deacon, head of local authority support for the Energy Saving Trust advice centre praised Milton Keynes and said: "Well done MK – I hope other local authorities are inspired to rise to the challenge you have set."

Since 2008 developers have paid over £400k into the fund. So far it has been used to insulate existing older private homes and sheltered housing.

More than 2,000 residents were advised about the offer in just three months after the council announced the fund would be used to lower the cost of professionally installed insulation for homeowners.

Advisors were able to refer callers to the council's £95 offer for either cavity wall or loft insulation. As a result, in June the 1,000th local property was insulated.

Sheltered housing is also being insulated with help from the fund. This will save over £17,500 per year. Around 190 tonnes less carbon dioxide will enter the atmosphere annually, supporting the council's Climate Change Programme.

Cllr Mike Galloway, responsible for growth said: "The Carbon Offset Fund gives more residents the opportunity to directly benefit from the area's development. On completion of work residents homes can be more comfortable; both warmer in winter and cooler in summer."

■ The council's £95 offer is still open. Call the energy team on 0800 8048 777 for further information.

Future's bright for Duke's award winners

EIGHT inspirational young people have been rewarded for their hard work at a Duke of Edinburgh's Award ceremony.

They were invited to St James Palace, along with the Mayor and Mayoress of Milton Keynes, Euan and Irene Henderson, to collect their Gold DofE Awards and meet the Duke of Edinburgh.

They won pride of place after throwing themselves into numerous tasks, including taking expeditions all over the country, fund-raising ventures and learning new skills such as sports and languages, and work placements with wide ranging organisations.

The youngsters have worked partly or wholly with the Caldecotte Xperience and The Radcliffe School to gain their awards.

The mayor said: "The Duke of Edinburgh's Award scheme celebrates everything that is good about young people and these eight entrants are a credit to themselves, their generation, and Milton Keynes itself. I was very pleased to see them rewarded in this way, which will no doubt stand them in good stead for what are sure to be very bright futures."

SIMON DARNELL

FIGHT FOR THIS LOVE
Cheryl Cole

GIVEN her membership of Girls Aloud, I was expecting her solo career to come charging out of the blocks with a really good first single.

Well, the marketing's helped it charge out of the blocks alright, but the song itself is nearly good.

La Cole proves that she can hold a tune without any help, but then we come to the tune itself and, oh dear.

If you're going to do a song that's essentially the same six notes played from start to finish you need something far more substantial than this.

It doesn't help that the percussion trundles along in first gear, either.

There's a good singer at work here, but the song's a damp squib.

THE SPELL
Alphabeat

OH good, they're back – the one band that would be perfect for a Windows 7 launch party.

In their defence, they're only here to enjoy themselves and to encourage you to do the same and, in the past, Alphabeat's singles have provided me with literally minutes of fun – the CDs make great frisbees.

However, the kids love 'em which I suppose makes them the pop equivalent of Haribo.

This time round they've updated their sound a little, so out goes the 'Eurovision-winner-that-never-was' sound and in comes the 'side-four-of-the-Now 23-cassette' sound.

It seems that the trend for retro-sounding songs is moving away from the 1980s and into the 1990s which is great so long as nobody rediscovers Bombalurina, and this lot have thankfully avoided that particular trap.

The tune's light, fluffy, won't ruin your teeth and isn't overly jolly

Alphabeat's world still appears to consist of blue skies, talking birds and singing chimney-sweeps, but because they're genuinely having fun I can handle that.

This is the best single Alphabeat have ever done, which was inevitable given previous form, although, it has to be said, I was impressed by the singer's wailing at the start.

She manages to make a load of 'ohs' and 'woahs' last for fully fifteen seconds – a truly impressive feat.

If you'd like to try it yourself, the best method I can think of is to balance yourself so precariously on the edge of a cliff that you have to wave your arms around like an idiot to stop yourself falling. You watch, those 'ohs' and 'woahs' will come naturally... and that, dear reader, is why I write a music column and not an advice column.

GARDENLIFE

Wrap plants up warm

MANY people forget the winters of 1982-3, 1986-87 and 1991-92 when considerable damage from frost was inflicted on many garden plants both container grown and permanently planted.

More recent winters may seem to be milder as we have not experienced any really long spells of snowy weather. However in Milton Keynes we have had a few chilly nights during January since 2000.

On January 1, 2002 temperatures fell to -9C degrees, on January 11, 2003 -7C and on January 6, 2009 -8C – on all these occasions we had cold winds from the north

With the increase of patio and container gardening all gardeners need to be aware of the damage that cold winter weather can inflict on many of our favourite plants.

ROOT EXPLOSION

THE root cells freeze solid, expand and explode in much the same way as a water pipe freezes solid and cracks.

Roots are much more at risk when plants are grown in containers as the only defence against frost is the wall of the container.

Terracotta, glazed pots and wooden containers offer greater protection than plastic.

When we have a period of prolonged cold weather forecast I would advise that all patio containers are bubble-wrapped in two or three layers.

If your container is small enough, move it to your garden shed, garage or cold greenhouse until the thread has passed.

MAURICE RUST Frosts, Woburn Sands

Do not be tempted to place outdoor shrubs in a warm conservatory, that can do more harm than good as it encourages dormant shrubs to put on tender growth which will suffer from frost damage once you put them back outside

If you have a bay tree (laurus nobilis) or a camellia in a container they can be brought into a cold greenhouse or conservatory at the start of any cold spell and left there for the winter if required provided they are watered when they dry out

DRYING OUT

THIS occurs when the ground is frozen and the roots are unable to take up water, at the same time water is being lost from the leaves.

Evergreen plants and shrubs are most at risk from this type of damage.

During periods of prolonged frost, water evergreens in containers on sunny days, shrubs such as aucuba, buxus (box), bamboos, camellias, conifers, evergreen azaleas, pieris, rhododendrons and viburnums to name but a few. The best time to water is around midday when any morning frost has melted and before the threat of any evening frost

WIND BURN

IF we have strong winds during severe frost we have what is know as a low wind chill factor.

The thermometer may read 5C but the plants may be experiencing -11C.

Leaf cells freeze and explode causing leaves and shoots to wither and die.

Some shrubs such as bamboos will shed some of their older leaves to conserve moisture for their younger leaves or, if very windy, will fold their leaves inwards to help prevent lost of moisture.

To help prevent this problem wrap your shrubs up during frosty periods in their own thermal blanket a frost protection material know as fleece.

A few pounds spent on a roll of fleece will be money well spent and if handled carefully will last for several years.

If you are able move your containers to a less windy part of the garden maybe by the side of the house, garage or even by a hedge or fence.

Move them closer together using the tougher shrubs on the outside so that they will protect smaller, less hardy, shrubs.

Wrap close-weave netting or even an old curtain or blanket around the shrubs. Do not be tempted to wrap your shrubs bubble wrap or plastic sheeting as this will encourage the plants to heated up or sweat and the leaves will rot and die.

Whatever material you use, plants must have air circulation and be able to breath.

Happy gardening

XSCAPELIFE

Picture yourself on the giant Xscape screen

THIS winter Xscape is offering you the chance to win some great prizes just by visiting the centre.

Until November 1 the mall at Xscape will be transformed into a winter photography studio.

Every Friday, Saturday and Sunday between one and 7pm you can go along and have your photo taken and show what you love about Xscape.

Whether you've just been shopping at one of Xscape's urban lifestyle retailers and want to show off your new threads, or if you're really chuffed with the double-shot gingerbread latte that you've just picked up from Costa, let them know.

All photos taken will appear on a giant screen in the centre mall and will put you in the running to win Xscape's Love Winter prize pack including an all expenses paid day out at Sno!zone and two flights to the destination of your choice, courtesy of Jet2 airlines.

Pictures will also be uploaded on the Xscape website www.xscape.co.uk

MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

MK BUSINESS

Amway secret's out

AMWAY UK, the direct selling company, is celebrating an increase of sales and the recruitment of over 3,000 new Amway Business Owners (ABOs) following a successful PR campaign to increase awareness of the brand across the UK and Ireland.

Based in Caldecotte, Amway's head office PR team launched the campaign with the opening of its first 'Flagship Experience Centre' in Holborn, London in April 2009 which has resulted in over 5,000 visitors per month and where over 10 per cent of sales are now generated.

The company, also celebrated a milestone 35th anniversary in Milton Keynes last year, utilises its training centre in Milton Keynes and the London store to train new ABOs.

Andy Smith, Amway's general manager UK/Ireland, said: "Amway has been in the UK for 35 years but few people are aware of the brand and our internationally acclaimed product range such as Artistry skin care, Nutrilite vitamins and minerals and our new skincare brand, Beauty Cycle which will be launched in April 2010.

A local initiative has been to support MK Dons by becoming their official 'Healthy Living Partner'. Amway provide the players with expert advice and health products - including Nutrilite Daily, a multi - vitamin and mineral product, and Strive+, an isotonic energy drink for rehydration. As part of this commitment, Amway also sponsors new signing Lewis Gobern. For each goal Gobern scores in competitive league matches this season, Amway will donate £500 to Milton Keynes Sport and Education Trust (MKSET) disability programme. The training centre in Milton Keynes also hosted a beauty event for the wives and girlfriends of MK Dons players last month.

Material help for construction students

A CONSTRUCTION company has helped students to build their careers by donating materials left over from the construction of a school.

Morgan Ashurst, which has an office in Witan Gate East, Central Milton Keynes, has donated materials left over from the construction of the £8.9 million extension to Oakgrove School to 17-year-olds studying for a Level II Diploma in Construction at Milton Keynes College Construction Centre.

The students will use the lorry load of pristine blocks to help produce reduced-scale models of real-life buildings complete with cavity walls, timber-frame panels and solid decorative work.

Bank's new team goes international

HSBC Corporate Banking has appointed Sean Horner, Christine Drury and Clare Bullock to newly created global relationship manager positions in its Milton Keynes-based Home Counties team.

The three will provide a dedicated and unique resource to the increasing number of customers in the region doing business internationally.

Sean, Christine and Clare are part of a team of 36 new global relationship managers (GRMs) appointed by HSBC across the UK to allow customers to conduct business across borders, jurisdictions and language barriers with greater ease, and manage their cash more effectively.

GRMs will offer corporate customers solutions which draw on HSBC's global presence, including advice on setting up international bank accounts and moving money around the globe, to handling cultural sensitivities, and arranging introductions in key markets.

Ceri Richards of Home Retail Group with some of the 900 charity bags

Bags of charity bags

STAFF at Home Retail Group's head office have donated over 900 bags of clothing and homewares to charity.

The 2,000 workers at the retail company's offices in Central Milton Keynes have donated the goods towards the British Heart Foundation's (BHF) BIG Donation campaign, raising the equivalent of over £18,000.

The appeal came as the charity revealed a 20 per cent drop in stock donations over the last 12 months, despite BHF Shops being busier than ever during the current economic climate.

In total, the BHF raised 360,000 bags of fund-raising stock.

Ceri Richards, community and workplace manager for the retailer, which owns Argos and Homebase, said: "Our colleagues enjoy a fantastic relationship with the British Heart Foundation so I was not surprised to see the strong response to the appeal in the first few days.

"However, what followed for the remainder of the month was quite phenomenal and we couldn't have asked for more - we simply didn't have the space."

Homebase and Argos stores are working with the BHF head office to raise £2 million over the next year.

VOLVO DRIVe WITH START/STOP TECHNOLOGY – LOWER CO2 EMISSIONS AND OVER 70 MPG

The Volvo DRIVe low CO2 range showcases Volvo's ability to produce increasingly efficient vehicles with economy to surpass even the smallest diesel-engined cars.

The DRIVe range comprises the new C30 SportsCoupe, S40 saloon, V50 Sportswagon, XC60 crossover, V70 and XC70 premium estates and S80 executive saloon. Coupled with the benefits of family-sized accommodation, DRIVe cars will appeal to company drivers and private individuals alike seeking to reduce their carbon footprint. All seven models are equipped with efficiency-enhancing features and marked with the DRIVe emblem to signal their uprated environmental properties.

The new Volvo DRIVe range - dramatically reduced CO2 levels and improved fuel efficiency in seven models.

The R-DESIGN specification joins the C30, S40 and V50 DRIVe range, bringing down CO2 emissions to just 119 g/km Start/Stop available on C30, S40 and V50 to deliver improved CO2 emissions and miles per gallon.

New Volvo C30 1.6D DRIVe with Start/Stop emits only 99 g/km of CO2 and will be exempt from the annual Vehicle Excise Duty (VED).

Front-wheel drive versions of the XC60 and XC70 with the new 2.4D engine reduces CO2 emissions to 159 g/km, falling below the new Writing Down Allowance threshold for company cars.

Introducing the 1.6D engine in V70 and S80 to offer CO2 emissions of 129 g/km

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.

Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it†.

No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

Disappointing Dons let Saints march on

SOUTHAMPTON 3
Hammond 56, Lambert 74, Connolly 90

MK DONS 1

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

THE words 'deeply disappointed' were used countless times as MK Dons assistant Karl Robinson tried to pinpoint what went wrong in their 3-1 defeat at Southampton.

Both teams had been collecting points heading into the game and something was always going to give but nobody expected it to be quite so convincing for the Saints.

Southampton spent the majority of the first-half camped in the Dons' half with Rickie Lambert feeding balls through to the speedy Adam Lallana and Papa Waigo N'Diaye although to little result.

When N'Diaye eventually breached the Dons defence with a diving header it was ruled offside.

Although the Dons had been forced to battle against wave after wave of attack they were the ones who took a surprise lead in at half-time well against the run of play.

Jason Puncheon's tucked a wonderful free-kick from 20-yards beyond Leighton Buzzard-born Kelvin Davis.

Despite being battered the Dons were ahead with their first shot on target and it was all part of the plan, according to Robinson. He said: "We contained them and we always knew we had enough up top and enough quality to get a goal at the right time and we felt we did that in the first half."

Unfortunately for the 1,000-strong travelling support Alan Pardew also had a game plan and the introduction of David Connolly and Michail Antonio brought an end product for the home side.

Dons were their own downfall leaving Dean Hammond unmarked at the far post and not moving quickly enough to close down Lambert when he latched on to a clever free-kick.

To add to their woes Joseph Mills grabbed a third deep in injury time when Dean Lewington attempted to keep the ball alive, only for his back pass to fall straight to the striker.

Robinson added: "The last goal was a case of us trying to keep the ball alive and not let them pin us in, so you can forget about that. But the other two goals were individual errors, people not doing their jobs. They know who they are, they've been told and it's important they learn from those mistakes."

"Before today, in 16 games we'd kept eight clean sheets which is possibly one of the best records across the country and we're disappointed.

"We're deeply disappointed with the result but we'll bounce back and come back stronger."

SOUTHAMPTON: Davis (c), James, Jaidi, Trotman, Harding, Wotton (Antonio 53), Hammond, Schneiderlin, Lallana (Mills 86), Lambert, N'Diaye (Connolly 54).

COMING UP

BRISTOL ROVERS
League One
Saturday, October 31
stadiummk KO 3pm

PAUL Trollope's side have surprised most this season with their early form making them play-off contenders.

The man that had always grabbed the headlines and been a key player for Rovers, Rickie Lambert, left in the summer and many thought they would struggle. Instead, although their form has dipped of late, they still remain in the top six. It is either all or nothing for the Gas when they are on the road with four wins and three defeats to their name.

Dons will be desperate to return to winning ways after the 3-1 defeat at Southampton, but standing in their way will be former players Carl Regan and Mark Wright.

Added spice in Cup

PAUL Ince's former side stand in the way of MK Dons and the second round of the FA Cup.

The Dons have been handed a home draw with Macclesfield Town in the first round proper of the world's most famous cup competition.

Ince's first managerial stint was at the Silkmen in the 2006/07 season when he took over they were rooted to the bottom of League Two but he steered them to safety.

Keith Alexander is now in charge and has already admitted his side are underdogs in the clash.

The match will take place at stadiummk on Saturday, November 7. Kick-off 3pm.

Join cup run

THERE is still chance for fans backing MK's 2018 World Cup bid to book a place on the 5k Open for the World Run on Saturday.

The run starts at The National Bowl at 1.15pm and finishes with a lap around stadiummk, just before the game against Bristol Rovers.

All runners will receive an Open for the World T-shirt, a finisher's medal and a ticket to watch the game.

Full details of the race, which costs £6 to enter, can be found at www.miltonkeynespartnership.info and entry by following the link on the site.

Youth Cup clash

MK Dons academy will host Dunstable Town in the FA Youth Cup.

The match will be played on Wednesday, November 4 at stadiummk.

Dons learnt they will face the Bedfordshire side when the first round draw was made last week.

Dunstable booked their place in the competition with a 2-1 win at Boreham Wood.

Tickets for the match are available on the night and have been priced at £3 for adults and £1 for concessions.

Kick-off is at 7pm.

Kelvin connection

FORMER Wimbledon goalkeeper Kelvin Davis has revealed he has a keen interest in MK Dons.

The Leighton Buzzard born goalie joined Ipswich in the summer that football arrived in Milton Keynes.

But the Southampton skipper has a link to the Dons.

In his programme notes he said: "The only connection I will have with the new club in years to come is my nephew Keaton Cross, who is an academy player with MK Dons."

MK Lightning stay top despite having off day

ICE HOCKEY

MK Lightning travel to Swindon Wildcats tonight looking to extend their lead at the top of the English Ice Hockey Premier League.

Lightning had their lead eaten into at the weekend when they lost 4-2 at home to Sheffield Scimitars but remained at the summit after beating Basingstoke Bison 5-3 the following day.

It was inevitable that Lightning would suffer an off day but few would have predicted the Scimitars to be the ones to benefit.

Especially when Andre Smulter gave Lightning the lead inside the first minute in a frenzied opening at Planet Ice.

The Scimitars then scored two goals in two minutes to snatch the lead before Nick Poole levelled the scores at 2-2 with just four minutes on the clock.

The 13th minute was unlucky for Lightning as the Scimitars made it 3-2 and the home side were never able to recover.

Scimitars netted their fourth 18 seconds before the end of the second period and that was enough to consign Lightning to defeat.

Adam Carr gets close up and personal with Sheffield's net minder

Picture Jez Tibbetts

On Sunday Lightning travelled to Basingstoke without Adam Radmall and Jacob Heron.

They had to come from behind to seal the victory after Steve Moria opened the scoring for the home side.

He gave them the lead with a strike on the 11th minute during a power play. The home side's lead lasted just three minutes when Monir Kalgoum pulled the scores level after Ross Bowers and Andre Smulter sent him through to goal.

The on 14.22 Adam Carr, who was later named man of the match, posted Lightning ahead with an unassisted goal and the score remained the same for the remainder of the first period.

The second period proved a close encounter with the next goal coming two minutes before the break. Lightning player-coach Nick Poole put his name on the score sheet on 38.35 following an assist from Adam Brittle.

If the travelling fans had considered sneaking off ten minutes before the end to beat the traffic Ondrej Lauko's goal on 47.56 would have changed their minds.

And when he added a second less than two minutes later it was the home crowd who were glued to the edge of their seats.

But rather than panic and throw the game away Lightning stuck to their game plan which paid off when they went back in front thanks to Kalgoum's second of the evening.

Then on 56.22 Andre Smulter sealed the win and the two points that keep them clear of Guildford Flames.

■ LIGHTNING travel to Swindon Wildcats tonight, face-off 7.30pm. On Saturday they host Romford Raiders at Planet Ice, face-off 7pm and the next day they are away to Bracknell Bees, face-off 6pm.

BASKETBALL

Lions hit hundred

PLYMOUTH RAIDERS 80

Valencia 19, Hilleary 18, Flato 13

MK LIONS 102

Harrison 26, Holmes 16, Morris 13

MK Lions hit a century of points for the first time this season to go joint fourth in the BBL table.

Maximillion Simon

Although Plymouth Raiders are still searching for their first win it was never expected to be an easy game for the Lions.

A point that was proved when the visitors only held a one point lead at the end of the first quarter.

Plymouth restarted with a 7-1 run, only for Maximillion Simon's basket to inspire the Lions' own 22-4 run, with six different players getting points.

But a number of free-throws allowed Raiders to reduce the deficit to 43-53 at half-time.

The Lions responded in the second half with 17 points to Raiders' seven which took the score to 50-70.

Tino Valencia and Matt Hilleary tried to keep Raiders in with a chance of catching the rampaging Lions but Frank Holmes and Yorick Williams kept the pressure on to carry a 13 point advantage into the final quarter.

Dru Spinks opened the fourth with a three before Holmes hit two baskets in succession.

Simon and Spinks the combined before Irmantas Griksas scored as the visitors held the Raiders at arm's length putting nine players on the score sheet of the 11 that played.

VINCE'S VIEW

Head coach and owner of MK Lions, Vince Macaulay writes for MK NEWS

WELL another fantastic winning weekend as we embarked on one of our more hazardous journeys all the way to Plymouth to face the Raiders.

We have talked amongst ourselves about the difficulties we will face across the season.

Everyone knows we will face tough teams with tough players but in order to win Championships you also need to face adversity in the shape of referees, long journeys and difficult home venues. This was one of them.

A very long journey means you have to stay focussed and in the midst of a partisan crowd you have to remind yourselves of the team goals. We did this exceptionally on Saturday and alongside terrific performances from EJ, Frank and Dawud I know all the team were really happy for Maximillion who stepped up defensively and locked down Plymouth's best player.

This Friday the test is another double header, home to League leaders Sheffield Sharks and a trip to the unknown on Saturday to face the Essex Pirates in Southend. Sheffield have started well and despite losing to Leicester and Newcastle have a good shape about them. We believe we are far deeper than them and that in the long run we can wear them out. We will need all our fans to be there with plenty of noise but we are confident in the way we are getting better.

Southend will be a different kettle of fish, we know very little about them other than the fact they don't have any American players but they also have a deep team led ably by GB under 20 coach Tim Lewis.

Well the number for this week is 701, that is the number of points scored by seven Lions teams in seven victories this weekend. Well done to everyone as the programme goes from strength to strength.

This week's nugget: A man who sleeps on the floor can never fall out of bed.

RUGBY

South West 1 East

IT was an away day to forget for Olney as they were thrashed 57-7 at Buckingham.

A strong Buckingham side were dominant from beginning to end yet they only managed to post 15 points on the board before the break.

And at that point Olney still looked capable of threatening the result thanks to Jack Sutton crossing the line and Dave Watts converting to make it 15-7 at half-time.

But Buckingham then came out and turned the screw with their expansive rugby which opened the flood gates.

A battered Olney were left to lick their wounds following a second half where they had failed to score and let in a massive 42 points.

■ A late Bletchley comeback was not enough to earn them victory over Reading Abbey.

An early try under the post put Reading in front but George Harman kept Bletchley in touch with two penalties.

Harman was the star for Bletchley when he kicked over the Reading defence and chased it down for a try before converting to put them 13-7 up.

In the second half Reading turned on the style with two penalties and two tries taking them to a healthy 23-13 lead.

Bletchley also had a man sent to the sin bin while Reading were adding to the score.

With eight minutes remaining Bletchley applied the pressure and a chipped ball through was brilliantly chased down by flanker Jason Buckley.

The conversion from Harman took them to within three points but that was a close as they could get.

Level 7 National Cup

MILTON Keynes produced a stunning performance to crush Tadley 59-0.

They ran in eight tries against a poor Tadley outfit.

Daniel Pearson bagged an impressive 25 minute hat-trick before Mike Dean also crossed the line - and converted three times and three penalties.

Steve Christie, Andrew Williamson, Joe Gorman and Mads Jensen also added their names on the score sheet with Dean and Terence Woodhall kicked a conversion each.

MKSPORTSSHORTS

Local football

IN the Molten Spartan South Midlands division one New Bradwell St Peter suffered their second defeat of the season.

They travelled to Ampthill Town where they lost 2-1, Buckingham Athletic were beaten 4-3 at home to Tokyngton.

In division two Mursley United beat Tring Corinthians 2-1.

Newport Pagnell continued their good form in the United Counties Premier League with a 5-2 thumping of Bourne.

Two goals came from striker Darren Lynch gave the Swans a 2-1 half time lead.

Nabil Sharif, Rob Tapp and Darren Dykes added to the score line in the second half.

Olympic stamps launch

MILTON Keynes-based badminton player Rajiv Ouseph has launched a new set of Olympic stamps.

Ouseph, the 2003 European Junior champion who became the Badminton Europe Circuit men's singles champion in June, is only 23 but has already played 25 times for England.

He is thought to be one of the 2012 Olympic hopefuls for Great Britain and was asked to represent badminton, one of ten sports featured on the Olympics and Paralympic Games that were launched on October 22.

Sports cash windfall

BUCKS Sport has secured funding of £284,500 from Sport England for its Reactivate Bucks programme to increase participation in sport across Milton Keynes and Buckinghamshire.

A number of mini programmes including Fit 4 Life, aimed at over 50s, Take to the Streets, encouraging people to take part in sports initiatives such as Race For Life, and Challenge Bucks, targeted at people who want to work with their local communities, will all benefit from the funding.

Cross country success

A SMALL contingent from Milton Keynes Athletic Club contested the annual Ampthill Cross Country.

Tanya Taylor showed early season promise with an excellent third place in the women's even finishing 48th overall in 36m 20s.

The club was actually led home by 35th placed Robin Dowswell (M40) in 35m 17s with 53rd Andy Harrison (M50) finishing in 36m 37s.

The other finishers were 61st Chris Nicholson (MS) 37m 15s, 71st Mike Burling (M50) 37m 52s, 79th Terry Down (M55) 38m 29s, 107th Alan Humphries (MS) 41m 10s, 119th Sarah Layton (FS) 42m 12s, 218th Val Russell (F60) 54m 28s and 228th Brian Gilks (M75) 56m 36s.

Poulter poster

WOBURN golfer Ian Poulter has shown his support for the National Golf Club Challenge by fronting the national poster campaign.

The event will bring together some of the biggest UK golf clubs on July, 24 2010 in support of Help for Heroes.

Poulter said: "Help for Heroes provides an incredible support for these tough and inspiring people and I am proud that British golf clubs and golfers are giving their full support.

Ban for Lewie after ref abuse

DEAN Lewington has been slapped with a two match ban by the FA.

The MK Dons skipper pleaded guilty to a charge of use of abusive and/or insulting words towards a match official relating to an incident during their match with Leeds United last month.

Lewington admitted the charge and yesterday the FA handed him a £500 fine, a two match suspension and warned him about his future conduct.

The ban starts on Monday, November 9 meaning he will miss the Johnstone's Paint Trophy home fixture against Northampton Town, and their League One clash at Charlton Athletic.

Lewington is available for Saturday's match against Bristol Rovers and for the first round FA Cup tie with Macclesfield Town.

Elsewhere, on-loan star Aaron Doran is hoping the Dons can reach a deal with his parent club Blackburn Rovers to extend his stay at stadiummk.

The 18-year-old is set to return to Ewood Park after Saturday's game but he is keen to remain with the Dons.

The winger, who scored against Southend on his debut, said: "I started off well but I would like my last game to be one of the best I've played so hopefully I can do that. I definitely want to stay here and get more games under my belt."

Even if a deal can not be reached, the Dons have clearly left an impression on the Irishman.

He added: "As we're going now I think we could play Championship next season and then in the next few years push on in the Premiership."

■ Striker Dean Morgan has signed a short-term deal with the Dons.

Red Bull's Vettel aims for final race victory

Maybe next year? A thoughtful Sebastian Vettel after the Brazil race

F1 driver wants to end on a high in Abu Dhabi

EXCLUSIVE BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

SEBASTIAN Vettel cut a disconsolate figure when Jenson Button won the World Championship but he has dusted himself down and is determined to end his 'fantastic' season with victory at the brand new Abu Dhabi race track.

In an exclusive interview with MK NEWS the Red Bull Racing driver reflected on his debut year with the Milton Keynes-based team and says he expects them to challenge for the title again in 2010.

Heading into Sunday's final race of the season Vettel has a hat-trick of first place finishes and 74 points to his name.

Twenty-two-year-old Vettel said: "It has been a fantastic season. We realised already during winter testing that we had a competitive package and were able to challenge for wins and we were championship contenders right up to the end."

Vettel could confirm second place in the driver's standing if he finishes ahead of Brawn GP's Rubens Barrichello.

The German had been hoping the Yas Marina circuit would present him the chance to lift the world title, only for Button to be crowned champion in Brazil.

He added: "Maybe heartache is too strong a word, even if I was very disappointed, because it was always going to be a long shot to take the title after Button and Brawn built up such a big lead in the early part of the year.

"Now, I am looking forward to trying to win the final race in Abu Dhabi and then it will already be time to focus on trying again in 2010."

Looking back Vettel can not pick out one moment that sealed his championship fate, although three retirements certainly did not help his cause.

He said: "The championship depends not just on your own performance, but also on what the other drivers are doing. We had a mix of great wins, some poor results and a few mistakes which is typical of anyone's season really, so I do not look at just one race as a turning point."

Formula One was surprised by the success of Red Bull and Brawn however, the usual contenders are expected to strengthen over the winter. I expect that we and Brawn should be strong next year," Vettel added, "however, teams like McLaren and Ferrari have great resources and people working for them who know what it takes to win races and championships.

"I expect it will be a much more closely contested battle in 2010."
